

United Soccer Coaches reveals NCAA Division III All-America Teams

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (November 30, 2017) – United Soccer Coaches announced on Thursday the association’s NCAA Division III Men’s and Women’s All-America Teams on the eve of the 2017 NCAA Division III Men’s and Women’s Soccer Championship semifinals in Greensboro, North Carolina.

A total of 92 players (46 men, 46 women) in NCAA Division III soccer receive All-America recognition this year, led by a trio of three-time All-Americans: Brandeis University midfielder Josh Ocel, Lynchburg College defender Emily Maxwell and University of Chicago senior midfielder Mia Calamari.

This year’s NCAA Division III All-Americans, along with their families and coaches, will be formally acknowledged for their accomplishments at the United Soccer Coaches All-America Luncheon on January 20, 2018 at the Pennsylvania Convention Center in conjunction with the 2018 United Soccer Coaches Convention in downtown Philadelphia.

In addition, the 2017 NCAA Division III Men's and Women’s All-Region Teams have been posted in the “Awards Central” section of UnitedSoccerCoaches.org.
