

NY Giants To Practice On GA Field Next August

From August 1 to around September 1, a two-time National Football League championship team—the New York Giants—will be at Gustavus. The 80-player squad will work out on the GA practice field and will be both boarded and housed in one of the campus dormitories.

On August 17, the first intra-squad game will be played on the Gustavus Field under the lights. Admission will be charged for that game with all income over the expenses going to the college.

Two other intra-squad games have been scheduled at Austin and Redwood Falls. The Giants also play at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, against another NFL team—as yet unknown.

Gustavus was selected as the sight of their training camp over several other offers in the state because of the facilities and ease of transportation to and from here.
