FIVE TALENTED STUDENT-ATHLETES HIGHLIGHT
2022-23 ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICA® WOMEN'S AT-LARGE TEAMS

AUSTIN, Texas – Five standouts headline a group of outstanding student-athletes named to the 2022-23 Academic All-America® Women's At-Large teams as selected by College Sports Communicators (CSC).

Aria Fischer from Stanford University, Daisy Woodring of Texas Woman's University, Karen Alvarez from University of Texas at Dallas, Missouri Baptist University's Jordan Haeusser, and Jordan Harrison from Johnson County Community College are the All-America ® of the Year honorees for NCAA Division I, Division II, Division III, NAIA, and the College Division, respectively.

Division I

Fischer, a senior from Laguna Beach, California, was a standout in water polo at Stanford and is now a two-time first team Academic All-America® selection. She is an English major with an emphasis in creative writing with a 4.00 cumulative grade-point average and was one of five Stanford Cardinal named to the first team. She was a three-time ACWPC All-Academic honoree, three-time MPSF All-Academic recipient and 2022 Pac-12 Academic Honor Roll pick.

Fischer was recently named the 2023 Peter J. Cutino Award recipient, presented to the most outstanding female collegiate water polo player in the nation as voted by Division I coaches. She became the seventh player in school history to win the award. In addition, Fischer was named the ACWPC Player of the Year, helping Stanford defeat USC 11-9 to secure its ninth NCAA title in school history and repeat for the first time since 2014-15.

Stanford finished the year with a 24-1 record, avenging its only loss in the finals. It was the third NCAA national championship for Fischer, who closed out her career as a four-time ACWPC All-American, qualifying for the first team three times (2019, 2022-23) and the second team in 2018.

Fischer was named the Most Valuable Player of both the NCAA Tournament and MPSF Tournament. A four-time All-MPSF selection after earning first-team honors for the second time in her career, Fischer led the Cardinal in goals (71), assists (45), points (116) and shots (142). In late March Fischer became the seventh player in school history to reach the 200-goal mark and closed out her career ranking fifth all-time with 226 goals.

A two-time Olympic gold medalist (2016 and 2020), Fischer became the youngest female team sport athlete in U.S. Olympic history to win gold, scoring 10 goals in Tokyo in the 2016 Olympics.

Seven members of this year's Academic All-America® Division I at-large team are repeat performers from last year's team. Along with Fischer, Verena Zaisberger of West Virginia University is a two-time first-team honoree while Casey Chan of Brown University moved up to the first team after earning third team honors last year. University of Utah's Abby Paulson was named to the second team for the second straight year, while Lisa Olsson of the University of New Hampshire and Illinois State University's Ali Schrock moved up to the second team following third team accolades last year. Third-team member Sophie Jacques of The Ohio State University was a second team selection in 2021-22.

A total of 49 individuals were recognized, with the 16 members of the first team showing a 3.95 cumulative GPA. A total of 26 honorees had perfect 4.00 GPAs, including 10 on the first team.

Division II

Woodring is a senior chemistry major with a 4.00 GPA and is now pursuing her master's degree in chemistry. A standout on the Texas Woman's gymnastics team she is from Bixby, Oklahoma. Woodring was previously named a 2023 MIC Scholar Athlete and USAG Scholar Athlete.

During the 2023 season, Woodring competed for the Pioneers on beam, floor and vault. She set a career-high on floor in 2023, scoring a 9.850 at the Rose City Classic. Woodring excelled throughout the 2023 season, earning WCGA Regular Season First Team All-America honors on vault with the highest Division II NQS and WCGA Regular Season Second Team All-America honors on floor with the second highest Division II NQS. At the MIC Championships, Woodring tied for second on floor and third on vault, earning First Team All-MIC honors on both events.

At the USAG Collegiate National Championships, Woodring claimed the Individual Vault National Championship, scoring a 9.825. She was also named a USAG First Team All-American on vault and beam.

In 2022 Woodring competed in 12 meets for the Pioneers on vault, 10 meets on beam and one meet on floor. At the MIC Championships, she scored a 9.800 on vault to finish tied for seventh and a 9.700 to tie for 10th. She helped lead the Pioneers to their third MIC title in program history. At the USAG Championships, she qualified for the individual event finals on vault with a 9.850. In the individual event final, she scored a 9.8125 to tie for third place and earned First Team All-America honors on vault. She helped lead the Pioneers to their 12th USAG National title in program history.

Five student-athletes were repeat selections from the 2021-22 Academic All-America® Division II at-large team. Catharina Graf of the University of Indianapolis and Slippery Rock University's Charleigh Rondeau moved up from the second team to the first team in 2022-23, while Elly Walters of Colorado Mesa University is a first team selection after earning third team honors a year ago. Anabel Needham of Michigan Technological University was a second team honoree for the second consecutive year while Cal State LA's Morgan Sjoersdma advanced from the third team to a spot on the second unit.

The Division II at-large teams honored 50 student-athletes, with all 15 members of the first team earning 4.00 GPA's either as undergraduate or graduate students. A total of 29 of the 50 members had 4.00 GPA's.

The Division II Academic All-America® program is being financially supported by the NCAA Division II national governance structure to assist CSC with handling the awards fulfillment aspects for the 2022-23 Division II Academic All-America® program.

Division III

Alvarez is a senior from the UT Dallas and is now a two-time Division III Academic All-America® at-large team member. A marketing major with a 4.00 GPA, she excelled for the Comets in golf and was recently the recipient of the UT Dallas Female Student-Athlete of the Year award.

A native of Katy, Texas, Alvarez was a WGCA honorable mention All-American, the American Southwest Conference Co-Golfer of the Year and the ASC Championship Individual Medalist. She averaged 76.26 shots with a low round of 69 and won three tournaments with four more top-three finishes. She earned first team All-ASC honors for the third straight year and was the Golfer of the Year for the second straight season.

Alvarez won the Elite 90 Award at the NCAA Championship for the third time. She was ranked 34th in the nation by Golfstat and led UTD to a conference title for the second time in three seasons.

She previously led UT Dallas in scoring her first three seasons. In 2021-22 she was selected as an individual participant to the NCAA Division II National Championships and was named the ASC Golfer of the Year and was a first team All-ASC selection. Alvarez ended the year with a 77.05 scoring average while winning a pair of tournaments. She was selected as ASC Women's Golf Distinguished Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Alvarez won two of six tournaments in 2020-21, finishing with a team-best 78.43 scoring average. She was part of UTD's first women's golf ASC Championship team. In 2019-20 she led the Comets with a 76.88 scoring average and was on the WGCA's All-West Team.

Ten student-athletes earned Academic All-America® Division III at-large team honors for the second straight year, including eight first-team members. In addition to Alvarez, Roanoke College's Lilly Blair was also named to the first team for the second straight year. Kayla Vrieze of Gustavus Adolphus College was a second team honoree a year ago, while five student-athletes moved up from the third team to the first team – Johns Hopkins University's Abby Birk, Kristiina Castagnola of Rowan University, Katie Fullowan of Gettysburg College, Ann-Frederique Guay of Norwich University, and Illinois Wesleyan University's Lexi Onsrud. On the second team, Abby Hainsworth of Rowan repeated as a second team selection while Methodist University's Jillian Drinkard moved up from the third team.

Of the 45 student-athletes on the Division III at-large teams, 22 finished with a 4.00 cumulative GPA. The 16 first team members had a cumulative 3.99 GPA.

The Division III Academic All-America® program is being financially supported by the NCAA Division III national governance structure to assist CoSIDA with handling the awards fulfillment aspects for the 2022-23 Division III Academic All-America® program.

NAIA

Haeusser is currently a graduate student pursuing her master's degree in business Administration after earning her bachelor's degree in business administration. She has had a 4.00 GPA both as an undergrad and graduate student and is a three-time Daktronics-NAIA Scholar-Athlete. She was named to the Academic All-America® NAIA at-large first team in 2020-21.

The native of St. Louis, Missouri, has been a standout for Missouri Baptist in lacrosse. She capped her career with NAIA All-American honors this season while leading the Spartans to an 11-5 record and the quarterfinals of the NAIA National Tournament. Haeusser was named a second team All-American as a midfielder after previously being named the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference Player of the Year and Defensive Player of the Year for the third straight year, along with earning first team All-KCAC honors for the third straight year and a four-time all-conference honoree.

Haeusser ended the season with 39 goals and 17 assists for 56 points while leading the Spartans with 86 draw controls, 42 ground balls and 36 caused turnovers. She ends her career with 161 goals and 48 assists for 209 points while recording 190 ground balls, 98 caused turnovers, and 220 draw controls.

While Haeusser returned to the Academic All-America® NAIA at-large team after a year's absence, two other student-athletes repeated as first team selections. In fact, Bella Ricchiazzi of the University of the Cumberlands is now a three-time Academic All-America®, named to the first team the last two years and the second team in 2020-21. Jesse Kirby, also of Cumberlands, is a repeat first-team selection.

A total of 31 student-athletes were named to the NAIA team, with the 15 members of the first team owning a 3.93 cumulative GPA. A total of nine individuals, six on the first team, had 4.00 GPAs.

The NAIA Academic All-America® program is being financially supported by the NAIA national governance structure to assist CSC with handling the awards fulfillment aspects for the 2022-23 NAIA Academic All-America® program.

College Division

A sophomore from St. Marys, Kansas, Harrison has a 4.00 GPA as an undecided major. She was recently named a 2023 National Junior College Athletic Association Division II Third Team All-American.

Harrison led Johnson County Community College to a 33-8 record and was named the Kansas Jayhawk Conference D-II MVP, was an All-Region 6/Plains District First Team selection and was the KJCCC D-II Pitcher of the Week five times. She was also selected the 2022-23 JCCC Female Athlete of the Year. Off the field, she earned NJCAA All-Academic First Team accolades.

This season, Harrison led the conference with a 1.78 earned run average, ranked third in strikeouts with 159 and second in wins with 20. She finished with a 20-3 record with 13 complete games. In 134.0 innings she held opposing hitters to a .200 batting average and recorded 10-or-more strikeouts on four occasions.

Harrison finished her career with a 30-10 record, with 270 strikeouts over 242.1 innings with an earned-run average of 2.05. She also registered 25 complete games and two no-hitters, including a perfect game. Her 30 wins are tied for 12th on JCCC's career chart, and the 270 strikeouts rank seventh all-time.

The College Division team featured two repeat performers from the 2021-22 Academic All-America® at-large team. K.K. Agner of Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and Lauren Lindsay of Jones College were honored a year ago, as well. Three of the 11 team members had 4.00 GPAs with the team showing a cumulative GPA of 3.88.
